

Transurban Innovate RAP

May 2017 – May 2019

About the Innovate RAP

Reconciliation Action Plans (RAP) are about organisations from every sector turning good intentions into real actions and rising to the challenge of reconciling Australia. A RAP is a business plan that uses a holistic approach to create meaningful relationships, enhance respect and promote opportunities for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Australians.

The Reconciliation Action Plan program includes four types of RAPs, each offering a different level of engagement and support. In developing our second RAP, the Innovate RAP, Transurban commits to completing the actions in this RAP over the next 24 months to assist in achieving the vision of strengthening Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities through inclusion, respect and valuing difference.

The Innovate RAP builds on the relationships Transurban has formed under the Reflect RAP and will involve us developing and exploring new and innovative approaches to deepen cultural awareness and education, create employment opportunities, provide education and career pathways, support Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander organisations and build ongoing relationships with communities in our markets.

Our Innovate RAP engages employees across our organisation, including Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employees, and other stakeholders to achieve our vision for reconciliation.

Message from the CEO

I am pleased to announce Transurban's second Reconciliation Action Plan, our Innovate RAP, in partnership with Reconciliation Australia.

Transurban acknowledges Traditional Owners of Country throughout Australia and recognises the continuing connection to lands, waters and communities. We pay our respect to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures; and to Elders both past and present.

Through delivery of our first RAP we learned a tremendous amount about local Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities and the types of initiatives that Transurban can support to strengthen communities. This document highlights Transurban achievements in our first Reflect RAP and outlines the objectives and actions for our Innovate RAP.

The process of reconciliation is an ongoing journey and Transurban would like to once again publicly express our commitment to continue to be involved in this journey. Our Innovate RAP is our plan on how Transurban is committed to achieving the vision of strengthening Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities through inclusion, respect and valuing difference.

Snake by Justin Ronberg Japurula
Size: 90cm x 20 cm, Medium: acrylic on canvas
Skin: Luritja, Painted: 2014

The animals and reptiles that Justin paints are totemic spirits. Central/Western Desert Aboriginal artists paint their Dreamings to honour their ancestral spirits. Justin has painted his land just after the rain with the green grass emerging through the desert terrain. The snake has found waterholes and is taking the opportunity for a much needed drink. The 'star bursts' represent the Spinifex, which is found throughout Justin's desert country, and the small roundells are the wild flowers that emerge in a burst of colour from late July to early September.

Overview

Our Vision for Reconciliation

Our vision for reconciliation is the acknowledgement, respect and proud celebration of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures by our employees and business partners and equitable standards of living and social mobility for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

Our Business

Transurban develops and manages toll roads in Australia and the United States of America. We are a top 20 company on the Australian Securities Exchange and have been in business since 1996. With over five million customers globally and more than 1200 employees (1,100 within Australia), our vision is 'To strengthen communities through transport'. Our vision is supported by our values of integrity, collaboration, accountability, ingenuity and respect.

Our strategy focuses on providing transport solutions to heavily urbanised areas in major cities. At the heart of our business strategy is our desire to be a 'partner of choice' for our government clients, customers and local communities. To do that, we have to provide effective transportation solutions to support the growth and well-being of our cities and serve the communities in which we operate. At Transurban we do this through the smart management of our existing road networks, through our active involvement in transport policy debate, and by applying our unique skills to the infrastructure challenges in our markets.

The toll roads we have an ownership stake in include:

MELBOURNE NETWORK	SYDNEY NETWORK
CityLink	Lane Cove Tunnel Cross City Tunnel Eastern Distributor M2 Motorway Westlink M7 M5 Southwest
BRISBANE NETWORK	GREATER WASHINGTON AREA NETWORK
Clem7 Legacy Way Gateway Motorway Logan Motorway Go Between Bridge AirportlinkM7	495 Express Lanes 95 Express Lanes

Transurban employees attend Welcome to Country ceremonies during National Reconciliation Week.

At Transurban we recognise that it is the many and diverse communities that make our cities such great places to live, work and visit. We take a holistic view and see roads as just one piece of the puzzle in a city's transport network. As part of this RAP we continue to explore our own cultural diversity and strive to create a workplace where Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employees feel comfortable expressing their heritage and feel proud of Transurban's contribution to the reconciliation journey.

Transurban's RAP

Journey so far

In 2014 Transurban launched our first ever RAP. Key achievements on the Reflect RAP journey included:

National Reconciliation Week celebrations

Transurban acknowledged National Reconciliation Week in May 2015 with internal communications and a screening for employees of the movie Harry's War; an award-winning short film focusing on the life of a young Aboriginal soldier, Harry Saunders, who fights for Australia in Papua New Guinea during World War II.

For National Reconciliation Week in May 2016 Transurban held our first ever Welcome to Country Ceremonies in all of our regions within Australia.

- In New South Wales, the event marked the opening of the new Hills M2 office. Andrew Head, Group General Manager, New South Wales was joined by Uncle Allen Madden, an Gadigal elder, who gave a Welcome to Country and Uncle Max Eulo, a Yuin elder, who performed a smoking ceremony.
- In Queensland, Wes Ballantine, Group General Manager, Queensland welcomed Munanjali elder Geraldine Page to Brandl St who performed an Acknowledgement to Country.
- In Victoria, at our headquarters in Collins Street, CEO Scott Charlton, was joined by Leon Egan, a proud Yorta Yorta/Bangerang Gunditjmarra man, who performed an Acknowledgement to Country and shared his personal story and insights with the team.

Each event created great interest and further discussion among the wider Transurban team.

Career and Education Support

Career Trackers

In 2014/2015 four Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander university students completed three-month internships within various Transurban business units aligned to their area of university study. As part of the CareerTrackers program, Aboriginal interns, who were mentored by Transurban employees, worked in a variety of areas to give them insight into the skills that are highly valued within a large corporation such as Transurban.

Our Interns joined an end-of-internship gala dinner, which was attended by around 1700 guests including business leaders such as Qantas CEO Alan Joyce, where interns from around Australia shared stories about the positive impact of CareerTrackers on their lives.

Ganbina

Ganbina works with young Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples to empower them to achieve true social and economic equality with other Australians within the next two generations. Specifically, they equip young people with the education, jobs training and life skills they need to become meaningfully employed and act as positive role models for others. In this way they become effective 'agents of change' within their own communities.

A group of young people from the Ganbina Industry Network program visited our Melbourne headquarters in July 2016. The Year 10 group was treated to a range of interactive discussions with employees from all areas of our business to get a well-rounded view of what life at Transurban is like, but also a personal view from each person about how their career has progressed from school to today. This was followed by a trip to the CityLink traffic control room. The group all agreed that they enjoyed the experience and learnt a lot about what we do to keep people safe.

Finally, a panel discussion with Technology and Customer Operations representatives talked to the group about leadership qualities, career paths, their own stories and the advice they'd give their 16-year-old selves. The group and panel members also discussed the different pathways into the workforce.

Transurban's Innovate RAP

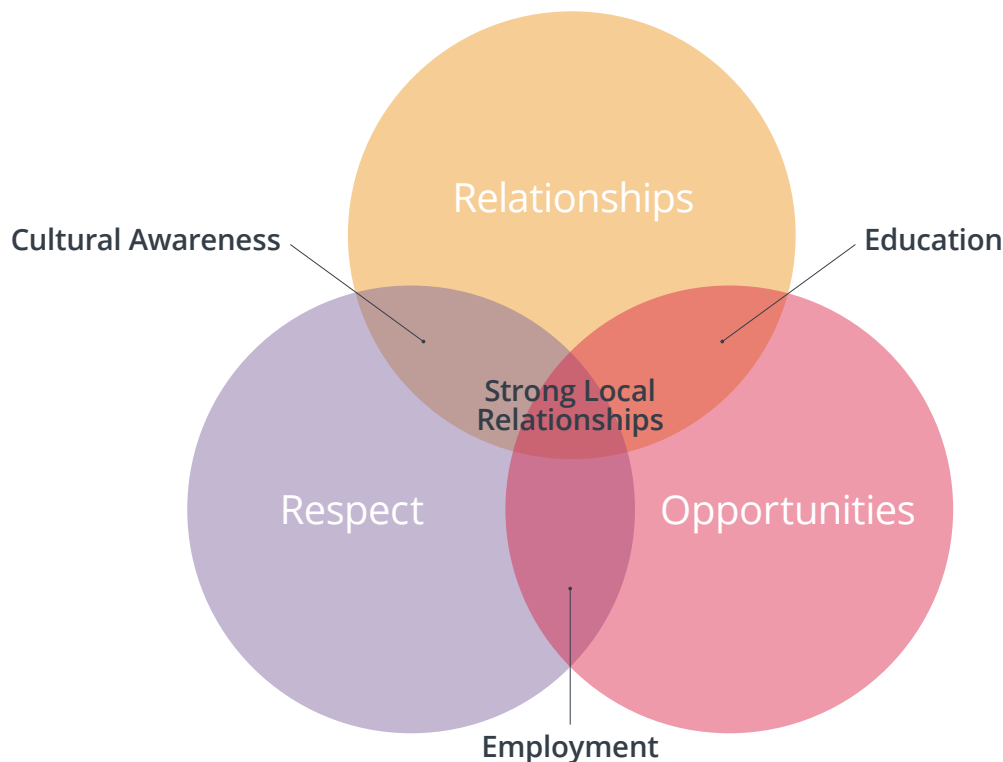

The Innovate RAP forms part of our broader social investment framework which aims to make a positive difference to the communities in which we operate. It is aligned with our diversity vision to 'strengthen the Transurban community through inclusion, respect and valuing difference'. We believe a strong community is a connected community and through our social engagement we seek to inspire, connect and mobilise communities.

Our roads, which are part of a broader network of transport infrastructure, help create stronger communities and businesses by providing better connectivity, mobility and transport options. However, we recognise that certain groups, including Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, require additional support to achieve greater social and economic participation.

This is why reconciliation is important to Transurban—because we believe that our cities should be great places to live and work—for all Australians. That's why we have decided to continue our reconciliation journey with the development of the Transurban Innovate RAP.

Our Innovate RAP is underpinned by the Reconciliation Australia pillars of relationships, respect and opportunities and will deliver meaningful action through Transurban initiatives focused on cultural awareness, education, employment and strong local relationships.

The Transurban RAP is championed by our Group General Manager Technology, Lisa Tobin, who leads our Cultural Diversity program. The Transurban RAP Working Group has responsibility for the development and delivery of the actions in this RAP and comprises Diversity Committee members from across the business and Jim Berg, a Gunditjmara Elder. As part of our Innovate RAP we seek the involvement of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employees and receive guidance from external Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander groups.

Action Plan

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples come from a strong, diverse and vibrant cultural history connected with Country. The empowerment of our Nation's First Peoples is vital in creating effective and lasting programs to address inequalities and progress reconciliation in Australia.

To enable this, our Innovate RAP is grouped into four key focus areas, Cultural Awareness, Education, Employment and Strong Local Relationships. These areas focus on connecting with and empowering Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities and organisations in the regions in which Transurban operates.

Strong Local Relationships

Only through engagement with Australia's First Peoples will reconciliation be successful and lasting. We will build local and national relationships with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities and organisations and work together with other businesses to support reconciliation initiatives.

Cultural Awareness

Through mutual respect and understanding we can work together to address inequality. By sharing and celebrating Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander culture and history with our employees and communities we can help build a strong foundation for reconciliation within Australia.

Education

Through mentoring, training and skills transfer we will support Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander individuals and organisations to participate and thrive in our communities. Supporting continuing school education and workplace training through ongoing relationships and guidance, we will empower new leaders and learn new insights.

Employment

Empowering Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander individuals and companies through direct employment addresses current inequalities and supports the creation of role models within communities. As an employer we strive to create a workplace that is inclusive of all people and recognise that Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders have specific workplace needs.
